

LETTERPRESS PAPER OPTIONS

PAPER

Paper Source - hwww.paper-source.com

Can to be a little expensive but paper comes in vast variety of colors and in standard sizes. What's nice is that you can walk into a store and see everything. You also are not restricted into buying LARGE quantities like some other vendors. Their cover weight works great.

Paper Works - www.paperworks.com

Lots of options. Well organized. Filter to letterpress.

FrenchPaper - www.frenchpaper.com

Plenty of variety, textures and color options.

Neenah - www.neenahpaper.com

Carries Crane's Lettra as well as hundreds of others

Paper Mill Store - www.thepapermillstore.com

Carries Crane's Lettra as well as hundreds of others

Mohawk - www.mohawkconnects.com

Carries Crane's Lettra as well as hundreds of others

ENVELOPES

All the sites listed under paper also have envelopes of some kind. If you want envelopes that match your paper perfectly, order them together. Below are some additional options:

Cards & Pockets - www.cardsandpockets.com

Tons of sizes and colors. Unique shapes. Free samples!

Envelopes.com - www.envelopes.com

Can sort by sizes and colors.

LCI Paper - www.lcipaper.com

Can sort by sizes and colors.

GENERAL COMMENTS

- Using a heavier, softer stock if you are looking for the deeper "letterpress" impression.
- Paper weight is done in lbs. The bigger the pounds, the heavier the paper.
- You can print on things other than paper. Consider coasters, fabrics, and leather!

STANDARD SIZES

Will you frame it? It's easier to stick to sizes you can find frames for immediately rather than getting one custom.

Will you mail it? Same goes! Here is a link to some: www.papersource.com/media/pdf/envelope-size-chart.pdf

..... 